So I separated the 16 hours between two days the first day I worked with the apps Design and it was more like a mockup of what I would implement in the future. The second day I worked more with the backend stuff like fetching api, working with search and favorites. The App Architecture is based on the MVVM MODEL = Model-View-ViewModel, the code uses native Swift/Swiftui. The code structure is short and not hard coded and it is clean.